CONCLUSION:

«The Mac Audio PA 1500 is a smart active loudspeaker system – particularly conceived for garden parties, wedding receptions or street events. Whatever the playback circumstances are, this system will stand out with its numerous inputs. Playing music wirelessly via Bluetooth or inserting an SD card loaded with music into the box are my personal highlights. On top, only a single power socket is needed to fully run the fairly-priced PA 1500. The set-up will be done in less than five minutes (roll out speaker, plug in, activate Bluetooth, enjoy).

For an occasional quick announcement or for Karaoke usage, the wireless mic will do a great job. Although the PA 1500 is made for really loud performances, it also achieves excellent low levels. Should the DJ however exaggerate from time to time, the limiter will intervene in order to protect the listener's ears. The solidly crafted Mac Audio with its numerous handles and its rather light weight is a strong all-rounder that will get many a party going.»
